THE HISTORY OF CHEHAW COUNCIL

2008 Dedication Ceremony of the Dedicated Scout Monument

On January 22, 1960, Gerald Lawhorn was a member of the Chehaw Council Eagle Scout Honor Guard at the of the dedication of the Governor Chase S. Osborn Memorial. He was impressed and in awe of what he heard about this camp. After the ceremony, he went to a huge pine tree in front of the dining hall and buried a coin. He pledged himself that he would come back and dig up the coin when he had made Chase Osborn, a man he never met, proud.

Twenty-six years later, Gerald was walking with his scouting friends Tommy Fletcher and David Allen along a trail by the Flint River on land that he had just purchased. One of them said, “This would make a great Scout Canoe Base!” Gerald’s pledge to Governor Osborn instantly came back to him. He looked at them and said, “We will make it so!” Governor Osborn’s “Giving!” sure has kept the Scouting fun and popping!

On June 16, 2008, a ceremony was held at Camp Osborn to dedicate a monument containing three flagpoles and a statute of the “Dedicated Scout.”

The Dedicated Scout monument is designed to honor dedicated scouts and to inspire current scouts to stay in Scouting and hold sacred the values and ideals that scouting strives for in a young person's everyday life. Those ideals are highlighted in the Scout Oath and Scout Law.

The statue on the monument is known as the Mackenzie Statue. This Statue can be found in front of many Boy Scout offices, camps, parks, and in front of the National Boy Scout Headquarters in Irving Texas. His right hand is holding his hat in a position of reverence and respect, to his God and his country. His left hand is on his axe signifying the Scout Motto, "Be Prepared". This also represents the outdoor experience that Scouting brings to all young people.

The monument was conceived of by Gerald Lawhorn, an Eagle Scout from Sylvester, and long time Scout Volunteer. Gerald Lawhorn attended a similar dedication ceremony as youth and learned of the selfless nature of a man he never met, Chase Osborn. The ceremony inspired Gerald to always keep the values of Scouting at the forefront in of his life, and if circumstances permitted, to pass along opportunities and passion to other scouts. Gerald has done exactly that! This monument is just a small part of his continued influence, and is another way to pass his dedication and passion on to other Scouters, young and old alike.

On January 22, 1960, Gerald Lawhorn was a member of the Chehaw Council Eagle Scout Honor Guard at the unfolding of the Governor Chase S. Osborn Memorial. He was impressed and in awe of what he heard about this man, Chase S. Osborn, who had been such a 'Giving!' person. After the ceremony, Gerald went over to a huge pine tree in front of the dining hall and buried a coin. He pledged to himself that he would come back and dig up the coin when he had made proud the 1911-12 Michigan State Governor Chase S. Osborn he never knew.

Twenty-six years later, Gerald Lawhorn was walking with his Scouting Buddies Tommy Fletcher and David Allen along a trail by the Flint River on land that Gerald had just purchased. One of them said, 'This would make a great Scout Canoe Base!' Gerald's pledge to Governor Osborn instantly came back to him. He looked at them and said, 'We Will Make It SO!' Governor Osborn's 'Giving!' sure has kept the Scouting FUN popping!

This Monument was constructed by Gerald Lawhorn in honor of "Dedicated Scouts".
